PALLMANN P-104 Color Change

Dear PALLMANN Distributor:

We are pleased to announce a color change to our PALLMANN P-104 product. PALLMANN P-104 previously Brown in color is now Red in color.

The change to the Red color will greatly increase visibility during application of the product on various substrates. There has been no formula change or specification change to the product.

There is also no change to the pricing, packaging or item number. This new color change in PALLMANN P-104 can be mixed with the existing formula with no chemical reaction issues. This product will begin shipping immediately.

Please pass this distributor bulletin onto your customers. If you have any further questions please contact your local PALLMANN Territory Manager.

Best Regards

Product/Technical Manager, PALLMANN
